

Messages Containing Racist Threats Were Written to Xanthi Mufti Ahmet Mete - November 30, 2020

In Greece, Western Thrace, messages containing racist threats were written to the elevator of the apartment building where Xanthi Mufti Ahmet Mete stayed with his family. "While the world was dealing with pandemics and deaths, unfortunately," H.A "signed the" Good Turk is a dead Turk "and" Hodja is on his face ... "writings were written on the elevator mirror of the building where we stayed. First of all, it is admirable that they attest to our Turkishness. However, those who say "the minority is comfortable, there is equality" should see such attacks. Will the politicians attacking the minority, the press, still play three monkeys in these situations? The residents searched the security and the police took care of it. We hope the authorities take this into account. " announced by sharing.

Attack was condemned by Turkey's Foreign Ministry, The President of Religious Affairs Ali Erbaş, and the President of Parliamentary Assembly Mustafa Şentop.
