Over 50% of Israelis want Netanyahu to resign- October 17, 2020

A new poll indicates that 54% of Israelis want Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu to resign from politics, 35% want him to remain and 10% did not have an opinion. The poll, published by Israeli Hebrew newspaper Maariv, conveyed that 28% of Likud voters who took part in the last elections, and 57% of right-wing voters, want Netanyahu to resign from politics. If the elections took place today, the Likud party, which currently has 36 seats, would only obtain 28 seats according to the poll, and the right-wingers led by MK Naftali Bennett would acquire 21 seats.
