

Poverty Problem Increases in Egypt - July 3, 2020

On the 7th anniversary of the coup carried out by general Abdel Fattah al-Sisi in Egypt, Egypt is facing serious problems, especially the economy. The recent problem of poverty of the Egyptian people is getting worse with the Covid-19 pandemic. The situation becomes more serious when tourism revenues, foreign exchange from foreign employees, and Egyptian administration, who are deprived of income from students who come for education, are also added to mismanagement, corruption, and nepotism.
