

200 million people undernourished in Africa! - 22 May 2020

Global Nutrition Report 2020 highlighted malnutrition problem for 37 countries worldwide and 27 of them are in Africa. According to report progress regarding nutrition is still too slow in some African countries and there are over 200 million people undernourished in the continent. There are also some good examples such as Ethiopia showing progress better than expected. The report highlights inequalities in tackling malnutrition problem.