

Courts have fined two more participants of a protest action in Vladikavkaz! - 01 May 2020

In North Ossetia, courts have fined two more participants of a protest action in Vladikavkaz, and the total number of court's decisions on fines and arrests of activists reached 64, the joint press service of the courts reports. On April 21 and 22, the courts pronounced decisions on administrative arrests of 41 rally participants, and three other activists were fined. On 1 May, the court has found Arsen Besolov, an administrator of a chat on Telegram, to be an organizer of the protest action and sentenced him to 15 days of arrest.
