

Slovenian Prime Minister Sarec resigns, calls snap election! - 27 January 2020

Slovenian Prime Minister Marjan Sarec said he would send his resignation to the National Assembly on Monday and called for an early election, because his minority government did not have the influence to push through important legislation.