Teen girl shot by Israeli soldiers brought to Istanbul- April 25, 2018

Turkey's IHH brings Meryem Abu-Matar to Istanbul for medical treatment. Meryem Abu-Matar, 16, who lives in Gaza's Rafah city, was brought to Istanbul for medical treatment after she was shot by Israeli soldiers during the rallies. After a 7-hour operation, doctors said her health was improving and that she could have lost her leg if she was late in being admitted to hospital.
