

Since April of 2017, Uighurs have been subjected to custody or imprisonment in “political re-education” camps -January 17, 2018

According to the information given by the Uighurs in diaspora, Dr. Halmurat Ghopur who is leading personality in East Turkistan has been arrested on the basis that he has “nationalist tendencies”. Dr. Ghopur who is the president of Xinjiang Food and Drug Administration’s Department of Inspection and Supervision had been arrested last year on November for the same reason. Since April of 2017, Uighurs have been subjected to custody or imprisonment in “political re-education” camps, with the claim that they have extreme and politically incorrect views.