

For Refugees in East Africa UN agencies appeal 266 million dollars - March 3, 2021

UN agencies UNHCR and WFP appeal funding 266 million dollars to feed refugees in East Africa. According to agencies Covid-19 restrictions and measures limited refugees' ability to support their families via casual daily jobs. Thousands of refugees are now struggling to have enough food. For that, the vast majority of refugees adopted new coping strategies such as reducing meals or skipping it. The agencies claimed a terrible funding situation in six countries of East Africa.
